QWERT POETRY

A Literary & Cultural Residency

A live typewriter poet sits with your guests — and writes poems for them, on demand, on a vintage typewriter.

A rare, viral activation that transforms any event into an unrepeatable human moment. Eleven years. One poet. Infinite poems.

In every age of upheaval, the bard becomes a lifeline.

Why Now?

When technology accelerates faster than meaning can keep pace, people reach instinctively for the handmade word — the poem written only for them.

Experience Over Product

Guests are drawn to moments that linger — not content consumed and forgotten.

Earned Attention

Live, unrepeatable moments generate organic sharing and media value that no campaign can buy.

The Six-Event Arc: A Year-Long Narrative

Not repetitions, but distinct chapters — each shaped to feel unmistakable, grounded in the room.

1 The Threshold Event

The poet arrives before the first guest. The typewriter sets the tone for the year ahead.

2 The Intimate Interlude

Moving table to table at a curated dinner — each poem a discreet gift exchanged in real time.

3 The Celebration Event

Written to the energy of the room. Guests leave with keepsakes that outlast the evening.

4 The Reflection Event

Contemplative pieces that acknowledge what the year has held — the milestones that made the season complete.

5 The Private Commission

A bespoke poem for one person, one occasion. Delivered on linen paper with a wax seal.

6 The Closing Benediction

Poems written as guests depart — a parting gesture that leaves the evening with grace.

The Investment

A QWERT Poetry residency begins at $12,000 for the six-chapter arc — reserved, prepared for, and shaped around your property from opening gala to final toast.
